Building (Product Recognition WaterMark Grey Water Diversion Devices) Notice 2026: RN-10060

1 Title

This is the Building (Product Recognition WaterMark Grey Water Diversion Devices) Notice 2026: RN-10060.

2 Commencement

This notice comes into force on 9 February 2026.

3 Interpretation

In this notice of recognition, unless the context otherwise requires,—

Act means the Building Act 2004

Building Code means the New Zealand Building Code, which is Schedule 1 of the Building Regulations 1992, made under section 400 of the Act.

Certified intended use means the intended use of the building product certified by the certification body and as described in either the product certificate, building product's manual, or other relevant materials.

Conformity assessment body (CAB) means an organisation that certifies activities to demonstrate that a product, process, system, person, or body meets specified requirements for the WaterMark certification scheme.

Product type means a plumbing or drainage product that presents a public risk requiring mitigation, as determined by the Protocol for the Assessment of Risks of Plumbing Product under the WaterMark scheme. It is regulated under the Plumbing Code of Australia and listed in the WaterMark Schedule of Products.

4 Recognition of the following certified WaterMark products

Under section 272HA of the Act, I recognise the building products certified under the overseas product certification scheme, WaterMark, that are included in the product certificates listed in Schedule 1 of this notice.

5 Certified intended use of building product

The certified intended use of the product types listed in Schedule 1 of this notice are the product scope/applications of the product type categories under the WaterMark certification scheme, known as the WaterMark Schedule of Products – Devices and controllers.

Grey water diversion devices: Grey water diversion devices employing gravity or pumped discharge, designed to be used in the sanitary drainage system to divert grey water. Note: Products that require connection to a water service are outside the scope.

6 Conditions and limitations of this notice

The conditions and limitations of this recognition notice are set out in Schedule 1.
