Durability vs warranty

You need to understand product warranties, implied warranties, the Building Code’s durability requirements and how the three interrelate at the conclusion of a build.

This information was confirmed as current in February 2016. It originally appeared in Codewords newsletters prior to January 2014.

Published on 1 July 2007

Of interest to Homeowners, Residential property developers, Building consent authorities

This information is published by the Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment’s Chief Executive. It is a general guide only and, if used, does not relieve any person of the obligation to consider any matter to which the information relates according to the circumstances of the particular case. Expert advice may be required in specific circumstances. Where this information relates to assisting people:

- with compliance with the Building Act, it is published under section 175 of the Building Act
- with a Weathertight Services claim, it is published under section 12 of the Weathertight Homes Resolution Services Act 2006.