If you’re a designer or a BCA, this guidance on the energy efficiency of HVAC systems in commercial buildings may be useful. It also contains technical information on ductwork insulation and sealing, and insulating piping, vessels, heat exchangers and tanks.